

SiteHawk VeriScan Named New Product of the Year by OH&S

Nashville, TN (September 15, 2011) – Occupational Health & Safety magazine announced the winners of its 2011 New Product of the Year Award, which included SiteHawk VeriScan in the MSDS Management category.

VeriScan complements SiteHawk's existing MSDS management solutions by enabling companies to automate the chemical physical inventory process and reconcile those results directly to their MSDS notebook. The barcode scanning system accelerates the search, input, and identification process for chemical inventories.

"It's an honor to have our product recognized by the occupational health and safety community," commented Kraig Haberer, Chief Operating Officer of SiteHawk.
